

Dear Parents and Caregivers

A couple of cool things to share with you this week.

1. Our wonderful new piece of playground equipment has been completed and is now in action. A very big thank you to the Friends and Whanau group whose fundraising efforts last year made this possible. Tracey Robins' successful grant application ensured that we had enough funds to complete the project.

2. The second thing worth celebrating is our new Website that is now live. We will continue to add to and tweak it over the next few months. We hope that parents and families interested in enrolling at our school have the information they need, in a format that is easy to access. One of the really cool features is the google translate at the bottom of the home page. You can read the whole website in any language you want!

God Bless

Linda
